

MONOCLE

A BRIEFING ON GLOBAL AFFAIRS, BUSINESS, CULTURE & DESIGN

issue 46 . volume 05
SEPTEMBER 2011

- A AFFAIRS Diplomatic duo: a Swiss double act in Asia
 - B BUSINESS Tight squeeze: Korea's crammer schools
 - C CULTURE Venezuela's vision: a Latin American news force
 - D DESIGN Leggy living above a Brazilian beach
 - E EDITS A place in Paris for your pied-à-terre and a degree in gelato-making
- EXPO A South Atlantic high-seas adventure to deliver the mail

Back to school: the teachers, tutors and tech stars getting top marks

From Lima to Beirut and Rio de Janeiro to Cairo, Monocle meets a model class for 2011/12

EDUCATION SPECIAL

The sharpest schools, students, desks and bikes for the new term

Why can't our school be staffed by Danes?

page 42

Perhaps our pupils should skip university and start working?

page 46

UNIFORM Students Belong in Blazers, Ties and Sensible Shoes

XRAYS AND EXAMS: Where U.S. Schools Went Wrong

Sit down and listen: school reform in Sweden

NOOKS AND CRANNIES The Basics of Building Japanese Kindergartens

DESIGNING BETTER SCHOOLS A Finnish case study

SEK 95
JPY ¥2,310
USD $10
EUR 12.95
GBP £10.95
AUD $19.90
SGD $19.90
DKK 122

09 24K 05
0 74470 22446 4

finger-up to the giant brewers.
gabrielcollective.com

11
Bauer Pottery/homewares

In the 1970s Janek Boniecki left England for California to make films, but he ended up buying and reviving a ceramic brand dating back to the 19th century³. From flower pots to coffee sets, Bauer's bright colours and simple designs are a popular classic. — DMP
bauerpottery.com

12
Notanotherbill/teatowels

"Notanotherbill was started under the premise that everybody loves getting something in the post," says founder Ned Corbett-Winder. For €17 a month, you can sign yourself or a friend up for a monthly delivery of a gift, such as home garden kits and these Stuart Gardiner seasonal fruit and veg guide tea towels.

notanotherbill.com,
stuartgardiner.co.uk

13
Fueguia/candle

Located in the Palermo Viejo area of Buenos Aires, Fueguia lab-cum-shop produces 16 fragrances a year. Candles such as the spicy vetiver and cedar Pulpería No 73 come in a wooden box hand-carved by pupils at a carpentry school in Patagonia.
fueguia.com

14
Le Vin en Tête/fruit juices

Le Vin en Tête is one of Paris's most respected suppliers of vins naturels. Lesser known are its home-grown fruit juices under the brand name Satva. Flavours include a Cabernet Sauvignon red grape juice and a Grenache Blanc white grape juice, both from vineyards in the Languedoc region.

levinentete.fr

15
Architectmade/circle bowl

Finn Juhl's stainless steel "Circle Bowl" is now in production for the first time since it was designed in the 1950s. The bowl has been brought back into production by Danish firm Architectmade, a company dedicated to the re-production of classic Danish designs.
architectmade.com

16
Ask Alice/stationery

Melbourne-based designer Sass Cocker decided to inject new life into notebooks and greeting cards with her quirky stationery brand Ask Alice. Her selection of greeting cards feature characters such as

Fergus the Fox and Rainy Whale, and her range of notebooks include the 96-page Typewriter Mini Book which is made from recycled paper. — SRT
askalicestationery.com

17
Jose Gourmet/oil and tinned food

Launched in 2008 by a father-and-son team, Lisbon brand Jose Gourmet takes traditional foodstuffs and dresses them up in innovative packaging. Tinned fish, including ventresca filets, sardines in tomato sauce and stickleback, come in boxes with sketches commissioned from Portuguese illustrators such as Madalena Matoso and Bernardo Carvalho. Olive oil from Trás-os-Montes is bottled in stackable containers, while a square glass is used for the morello-cherry liqueur from the town of Óbidos. — IC
josegourmet.com

FOOTNOTES:

1) The National Trust is a British charity that protects historic houses, gardens and ancient monuments throughout the country. The organisation raises funds through membership fees (it has a membership of 3.8 million) and gift shops.

2) With a widening interest in the craft beer market, paired with dampening sales of mass-market beers in recent years, Brewers & Union ales are filling a gap in the market.

3) The sunny California climate helps the natural drying in the ceramic-making process, which is why southern California used to be home to around 600 potteries. Now only Bauer remains.